SensorScope Sensor Cleaning System for dSLR

View Details

What you can't see can affect your pictures. Dirt comes from many sources and it must be removed in a safe and effective way, or your images will show this debris. Four common types of contaminants can get on your image sensor: Metallic, Fiber, Organic and Silica/Quartz particles. Only the SensorScope system addresses all four types of material and the proper way to remove them safely.

Lightsphere II Diffusion System

Gary Fong

View Details

The Lightsphere is a flexible, totally Clear Vinyl diffuser with an internal snap on dome. The inside of the Lightsphere is completely textured to make the light dispersion even more "soft" than it would be otherwise! And because of this design, Gary Fong was able to make the material more translucent, keeping the unit from losing a lot of light while actually increasing the diffusion and softness of light.
